THE DAILY JOURNAL

FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1899.

Telephone Calls. siness Office.....238 | Editorial Rooms....

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. DAILY BY MAIL Daily only, one month. Daily only, three months ...... ay only, one year .. WHEN FURNISHED BY AGENTS. Daily, per week, by carrier ....

Reduced Rates to Clubs. bscribe with any of our numerous agents send subscriptions to the JOURNAL NEWSPAPER COMPANY, Indianapolis, Ind.

WEEKLY.

ions sending the Journal through the mails in the United States should put on an eight-page paper a ONE-CENT postage stamp; on a twelve help Goebel.

or sixteen-page paper a TWO-CENT postage stamp. Foreign postage is usually double these All communications intended for publication

just, in order to receive attention

anied by the name and address of the

Rejected manuscripts will not be returned unle THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL.

Can be found at the following places:

Book Co., 256 Fourth avenue.

NEW YORK-Astor House. CHICAGO-Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 217 Dearborn street, Great Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. — CINCINNATI-J. R. Hawley LOUISVILLE-C. T. Deering, northwest corner Third and Jefferson streets, and Louisville

BT. LOUIS-Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C .- Riggs House, Ebbit House and Willard's Hotel.

The last famine announced to plague the ple is a destitution of freight cars. Those men who think they can drive Mr.

Bryan off the track with Tammany's Judge Van Wyck have much to learn about the new Democratic party.

Governor Altgeld is regarded by the Demo- tration of wealth. Jan. 1, 1892, these trust of demoralized rebels, without a capital, a. crats of that State as an Anarchist We shall not only hold the gold we not world's increasing stock, is the opinion of Horace White, of New York, a conservative The Detroit Free Press (Democratic) asks: "Why commit the folly of making the free coinage of silver the instrument of party defeat?" Many Democrats are asking that question, but no Bryanite has made any sort of an answer. Under the new tax law of Illinois the appraisal of personal property in Cook county, which embraces Chicago, for the purpose of

are not happy at the change. The scorching denunciation which ex-Governor Altgeld administered to Goebel and Goebelism in Kentucky may have little or no influence, but it puts Mr. Bryan in the attitude of a volunteer supporter of "thugs taxation is almost three times as much as

and thugism" in the candidacy of Goebel. ers in New Jersey that they would be able control the Democratic state committee at its recent meeting. They even announced that Mr. Bryan would be indorsed, but the a tempt to give such an indorsement failed by a decided vote. When the political harlequin Lentz, who thinks he represents the Columbus (O.) district, aspires to be Mr. Bryan's running mate it is time the Bryan leaders should put some limit to the candidacy for the second place. Compared with Lentz, George Fred Williams is seriously sensible.

The bonds of the republic of Mexico bear 5 per cent. interest in gold. As Mexico certain to meet its obligations its bonds should not bear a higher rate of interest than those of an American city. It is probable they would not if free coinage of silver had not made Mexico a silver-basis country.

ondent at Manila of June 22, setting forth the losses of our troops, information of which General Otis has not given in his prosperity. It certainly disproves the oftbulletins, as he says, are not borne out by repeated assertion that the very few rich and discharges attributed to disease and wounds of the regiments now in San Francisco. The correspondent seems to hold General Otis responsible for keeping | the concentration of so much wealth in the troops in the field when the heat was 120 de- larger institutions. Doubtless many exdid not push the fighting.

There seems to be a discrepancy between y, Ohio, and that of the Cincinnati Enjuirer giving the result of the convention that county. The former declares that all the primaries elected McLean delegates while the Enquirer, a day later, says the imaries are pledged to General Sherwood. This means that Sherwood delegates in Toledo will be McLean delegates at th state convention. Mr. McLean, of the Dis trict of Columbia, has all the "slick" work-

The Spanish consul general at Hayana authority for the statement that the home government has made arrangements to take Spain 4,000 destitute Spaniards, to stories of brigandage. These people are probably a thriftless and lazy lot. They certainly are cowardly. The most reliable information from Cuba is that stories of brigandage in the interior are grossly exaggerated and that there is room all who desire to work. The demakes 4,000 vacancies, which filled by able-bodied, industrious The ultimate regeneration Cuba depends upon Americanizing it.

There must be a suspicion lurking about the intellects of the Goebel leaders in Kentucky that the advocacy of their candidate by the Louisville Courier-Journal may do Goebel's support the remnant of anti-16-to-1 stant refteration of its belief in the and expansion, displease Bryan? To illustrate: In the alled scathing. In combating Mr. Bryan's which rest upon consent, while the Repub- I continued against the United States the re- | poorly constructed or else have suffered

lic of Mexico is really an autocracy. It tells bellion which they began against her. This great impairment from the extreme cold. Mr. Bryan that those governments are best which spring from the characteristics | the part of Spain. of the people and answer their needs. tells Mr. Bryan that his statement that all government must be by force or consent "is to display not merely ignorance of the powers it could probably do so. The actual governments existing in the world, ing and significance of the terms." The Courier-Journal then quotes the last paragraph of Mr. Bryan's paper, cause it is an illustration of his faulty style Daily and Sunday, per week, by carrier .... 20 cts of public pleading." It tells Mr. Bryan that he is playing directly into the hands of Mr. McKinley. It accuses him of "quibbling." The editorial closes with the declaration that such temerity as Mr. Bryan displays is recklessness and folly. It cannot be that such a smashup of the Democratic idol will

THE GROWTH AND CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH.

The concentration of wealth by life insurance companies, banks and trust companies has been used by those who assail "the money power" as if this wealth was largely the property of the managers or companies. If there is a money power in the country the institutions named constitute it because they are the great lenders of money. When those who are constantly denouncing moneyed institutions for political effect come to realize the growth of such forms of wealth as these institutions represent they will find fresh cause for alarm and expletives. A well-known life insurance company recently advertised extensively that it had on its books $1,000,000,-000 of insurance, and that, in transacting this enormous business, it had accumulated period it accumulated $163,000,000. The New companies had $300,000,000, while the last report shows that they have $722,000,000. Eighteen months ago they had $483,000,000. That is, in a year and a half the trust companies have added 50 per cent. to their deposits. Still another illustration is found banks having over $5,000,000 deposited.

in the increased deposits of the 121 national year ago there were only ninety-one such banks. The twenty-five banks which head these lists had over $1,000,000,000 of deposits June 30, 1899, compared with $732,000,000 June 14, 1898-a gain of $268,000,000, or 35 per cent. in a little less than a year. A part of this gain should be attributed to the absorption of smaller banks by larger ones.

This vast amount of wealth represented by the surplus of a life insurance company, it was last year. But a number of people the trust companies and the larger national banks is the property of hundreds of thousands of individuals. Life insurance is now ne of the popular forms of saving money eached its limit. Now, with companies carrying billions of dollars on life insurance policies, and the rapid increase of the volume of insurance written during the past It was the expectation of the Bryan lead- | ten years, those who consider the matter must come to the conclusion that there is no limit to the investment of savings life insurance policies. The surplus or as sets of these companies, instead of belonging to the managers of the companies, be longs to hundreds of thousands of policy holders all over the country. So with the deposits in national banks and trust companies. The owners of comparatively small amounts of money have come to the conclusion that it is safer in the hands of bankers who have shown a capacity to manage large institutions with safety and profit than it is to keep it in their own possession or to attempt to invest it themselves. These vast sums of money, constituting a large part of the loanable money of the country, belong to hundreds of thousands of investors. That it is rapidly increasing in recent years, compared with ten or twenty years ago, is a sure indication that a large and increasing number of salary and wage earn-The reports of the Chicago Record's ers are accumulating property, while the rapid increase of such deposits the past two years proves an unprecedented period of are growing richer and the very many poor are growing poorer.

There are those who see grave danger in es. Others howl after him because he planations will be made for such growth but the obvious one is that depositors seem to have come to the conclusion that large and conservatively managed institutions never fail, and because this is the case they put their money in them.

AGUINALDO'S APPEAL.

The result of Aguinaldo's appeal to the owers for recognition of Filipino independence will be awaited with some curiosity The appeal itself is an ingenious bit sophistry and does credit to Aguinaldo's cunning, though not to his candor. Its weakness lies in the fact that it ignores American ownership of the Philippines and treats the Americans as invaders and trespassers. Much stress is laid on the argument that the Filipinos had conquered the sov ereignty of the islands from Spain before the signing of the treaty of Paris. herefore Spain was in no position to cede the islands to the United States. This is not rue. The insurgents had gained some vicories and important advantages before the treaty of peace was signed, but they had no means gained their independence or quished her sovereignty to the insurgents States off her hands she would have made ppines. The fact that in the negotiation at against surrendering the Philippines to th United States showed that she regarded her title to the islands as unclouded by any thing the insurgents had done. From a lega and international point of view her sovereignty over the islands continued until acted honorably and consistently in refus ing to recognize the independence of the Filipinos or to regard them otherwise than as subject to American authority. Anxious as she has been for the release of the Spansterday is a column and a half ish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos criticism of the recent article of Mr. Bryan | she has refused to purchase their release sm is of a character that can be with the insurgents, because that would "monarchies are founded on | Having transferred her sovereignty and asand republics on consent," the Courier- | signed the islands and all their belongings Journal points out some governments which | to the United States Spain declines to recognize the independence of those who have

appeal was sent to all the foreign consuls It to their respective governments. As these consuls are accredited to the United States and hold their exequatur from this government a friendly request from Washington that the appeal be ignored would probably be complied with. It is quite possible the consuls may adopt that line of action of their own motion. As mere commercial representatives they are under no obligation to forward to their governments a paper issued by the leader of an insurrection against a friendly power and which seeks to raise an important international question. If the paper had been sent to the various ministers at Washington they might feel obliged, as a perfunctory official act, to forward it to their respective governments, but consuls are not ministers, and they are under no sort of obligation to comply with Aguinaldo's request. But, even if forwarded, it is not likely to receive any attention. Powers that did not recognize the independence of the Filipinos when they were fighting against Spain are much less likely to do so now they are fighting vastly stronger power. Every power in Europe knows that the United States is fully able and fully determined to establish its authority in the Philippines and that the inhabitants of the islands have no earthly chance of gaining their independence except by laying down their arms and making peace with the United States. Moreover, other nations know that in the interaggregate assets amounting to $270,000,000. ests of humanity and civilization it is in-All of this has been accomplished in forty | finitely better that the islands should come under the control of the United States than were $107,000,000. During the intervening that the present insurrection should succeed. Under these circumstances no gov-Colonel Jack Chinn has at length broken | York trust companies afford another filus- | ernment would be likely to stultify itself silence in Kentucky by declaring that ex- | tration of the almost marvelous concen- | by recognizing the independence of a band ment. The appeal has every appearance of

THE ATTACKS ON GEN. OTIS.

Senator Hawley, who sailed for Europe on Wednesday, was asked just before his departure, if he thought General Otis was likely to be relieved of command in the should be. I have a great deal of configoing up from the yellow journals. They began with Surgeon General Sternberg and tried to kill him, then they shifted to Alger and finished him, and now they do not see any one to go for but Otis. Senator Hawley is a veteran soldier and a level-headed man, and as well qualified to speak regarding military affairs as any of the course pursued by anti-administration Years ago many thought life insurance had papers is strictly true. He might have added that they tried to kill off General Shafter, who, whatever his defects may have been, conducted to a successful conclusion one of the most brilliant and decisive military campaigns recorded in the annals of any country. No matter who was in General Otis's place, he would be subject, under present conditions, to the same attacks. Yet it is doubtful if any other commander could have done more with the means at his disposal and the difficulties to be overcome, and even General Miles or General Merritt might not have accomplished as much, capable and experienced officers as they are. Recently the anti-administration papers have given as much prominence and circulation as possible to criticisms of General Otis made by some of the officers and soldiers returning from the Philippines. There are always grumblers and kickers in every army-at least in every American army-who can point out the mistakes of the general in command and tell how the campaign might, could and should have been conducted. A common sailor on one of Dewey's ships is reported as saying that the destruction of the Spanish fleet was not much of an exploit, "they were all old tubs." Critics of kind seem to be a necessary evil under our system. And now they are reenforced by a foreigner, Commander St. John, of the British cruiser Peacock, who says General Otis is utterly ignorant of the necessities or the responsibilities of a campaign in the tropics, and that "he has 5,000 dead to his account," and has no grasp of the situation. What does Commander St. John know about campaigning in the tropics and what situation has he ever grasped? Has he ever smelt powder, or set a squadron in the field? Ten to one there is not an American corporal in the Philippines who could not teach him more about the science and practice of war than the total number of deaths among our > ease has been less than eight hundred. Public criticism of General Otis should cease. It is based on ignorance, and both ungracious and ungrateful. It evident now that he has not had an adequate force for the work in hand, and while he may have made some mistakes it is by no means certain that another commander would not have made more. An officer who is doing his "level best" to maintain the honor of the flag on the other side of the globe should not be hounded by attacks troops in the Philippines by battle and dis-

Dispatches from Mexico indicate that President Diaz has adopted a vigorous policy in quelling the Yaqui Indian insurrec-He has demonstrated his ability now he has a chance to show it in the conduct of war. The Yaquis are a dangerous tribe, and if handled with gloves or met with a rosewater policy might give the Mexican government a great deal of trouble. It is evident they are not to be handled or dealt with in that way. The standing army of Mexico consists of 7,200 cavalry, 2,300 artillery and 23,000 in antry. The infantry is armed with Mauser rifles, the cavalry with carbines of the same make and the artillery with the latest improved field pieces and mountain guns. President Diaz, of Indian as he pleases without saying "By your leave" to Congress or to public opinsharp and decisive campaign against the Yaquis, from which older and more powerful republics might take a lesson.

A naval attache of the Japanese legation at St. Petersburg predicts that Russia will his prediction on the fact that some parts of

is a consistent and honorable attitude on He says the road for long distances is almost impassable, and that it would be out of the question to transport an army over If this government considered it imporit. The prediction of the Japanese is doubtaldo's appeal and prevent it from reaching less incorrect. All that he says regarding the present condition of the road may be true, but it does not follow that Russia but to betray a misconception of the mean- in Manila, with a request that they forward | will abandon an enterprise of such great The objects to be attained by the Transsiberian Railroad are part of a far-reaching policy, and Russia is not in the habit of being balked in its undertakings or surrendering to ordinary obstacles. The Czar's government would be more likely to reconstruct every mile of the railroad than

> The present Emperor of Germany sometimes talks too much and takes himself rather too seriously on the question of the divine right of kings, but nevertheless he is an able man and a far-seeing one. In an interview accorded to Representative Foss, is now traveling in Europe, he is reported as saying that "the future of nations lies on the ocean," and he added: "The stronger the nation is at sea the more others will hesitate to begin hostilities. The increase of navies, therefore, is in reality the best peace conference." This is little too sweeping, because it seems to call for a progressive and indefinite increase of navies, but it is true that the future of nations lies on the ocean. The recent expansion of the United States has been on that line, and everything points to the necessity of still further developing our naval power.

A car manufacturing company of Philadelphia is about to submit a bid for furnishing sixty-seven postal trolley cars for the French government. The United States consul at Marseilles recently wrote to the State Department that "the French government would naturally prefer to have the new cars constructed in France, but as the American postal cars have advantages the European continent, it may be worth the while of American manufacturers to building sixty cars for lines in Paris, and a few days ago received a cable order for nearly six-hundred trucks. It really looks as if we were capturing the markets of the

The American consul at Marseilles reports that the city authorities at that place offer a reward of 1 franc for the head of every rat that has perished from the plague. The question is, would not the happy native with the head of the plague-infected rat accumulate a few of the disease germs during the process of decapitation and the de-

After an able review of the thugism, gunism and knifeism in Kentucky, Mr. Altgeld wisely concludes that it is questionable whether it is advisable for him to attempt to stump the State for Goebel. The weapons of anarchy have been known to turn upon the disciples of that form of political agnosticism.

BUBBLES IN THE AIR.

Got Something.

"So you came back from the Klondike empty handed?" "Yes: my hands were empty, but my feet were full of chilblains."

The Shamrock.

British vacht to win? "Av coorse not, but, by gorry, I do wish she had another name."

Even Up. Whene'er she spoke about a vase, She said it was a vawze. Meanwhile, her father said becaze, Where others said because.

House Still Incompletely Furnished. Waggs-I have been married eighteen years and life is still a honeymoon. Jaggs-Does that account for your folks ### being compelled to borrow so many things? The Anderson Movement.

New York Independent. The trade union of glass workers in Anderson, Ind., has decided to prosecute the window-glass manufacturing companies of that State under a statute which provides for the forfeiture of the charter of any corporation which departs from the purpose for which it was organized. They take this step to prevent the companies from entering the combination now being formed in East. But they will only waste their time and money. That method of attacking combinations was tested long ago. The new combination will be in the eyes of the poration. It will acquire the Indiana comanies or their factories by purchase, or by transactions which the courts will regard as a purchase. It will be able to dispense with the Indiana charters if the courts shall take them away, but the Indiana companies cannot be prevented from selling their prop-erty to a company organized elsewhere. The question is no longer one of trust associations and secret agreements designed to suppress competition, but one concerning the magnitude of the operations and the powers of corporations which acquire by processes equivalent to purchase the property and good will of smaller corporations. With respect to the window-glass industry, there is also to be considered the question whether a corporation which puts an end to competi tion in the home market should be protected by a high tariff duty on foreign window glass, a duty which makes it possible for the incorporated combination to exact safely rom American consumers prices above the level which would be determined by domestic competition.

Those Chinese Horses.

Philadelphia Record Much ado is being made about an a leged refusal of China to permit the export of horses bought in that country for our army in the Philippines, on the ground that the animals are contraband of war. To be sure, a prohibition thus grounded would be tantamount to a declaration of neutrality by China, and would imply a recognition by her of the Filipinos as belligerents. It is to be doubted, however, whether the government at Peking knows anything of our efforts to procure horses in as rare as snakes in Ireland, and if an interdict to the effect stated has really been issued it will probably be found to have been the act of some obscure local official on a strike for backsheesh

Can Live in the Tropics.

All this talk of the impossibility of white men living in the tropics is sheer foolishness as long as we have the pointed examples of the Spaniards and the Portuguese and the experience of the Dutch in ava and Sumatra. Nor are other proofs of the same nature wanting, such as that given by the English in South Africa. Americans can live in the Philippines safely and happily, and to argue in opposition is false and mischievous. But there must be sound government and sanitary science, such as we are establishing by sure steps in Cuba and Porto Rico.

Foiled by Jiminez.

The pronunciation of his name is said to nething like Himineth, which will account for the cold and haughty indifference with which the perfunctory comic paragraphers have boycotted it.

Big Job Ahead of Him Baltimore American.

Admiral Dewey seems to be coming to the conclusion that sinking an opposing fleet is but a small detail as compared to the labor of evading wholesale lionizing.

Looking for Filling. Louisville Commercial.

The State of Texas, having driven out the

FROM $2.50 TO $6 A DAY

NORTHWESTERN FARMERS OFFER-ING BIG WAGES TO HARVESTERS.

Labor Scarce in the Wheat-Growing Sections of Minnesota and the Dakotas-Women Working.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.-The Times-Herald says: "Just think of it!" exclaimed a Canal-street employment agent yesterday, "$6 a day for engineers to run threshing machines, $4 a day for feeders, $4 for good sack men and $2.25 and $2.50 for common harvest hands, including board. This is the word from Minnesota and the Dakotas. There is no hot air about the figures. They are offered by good people with cash pay. And yet the big farmers in the Northwest complain that they can't get enough hands to harvest their wheat."

Asked as to what he and other Chicago agents were doing toward supplying the demands of the Northwestern farmers, the Canal-street man said: "We are sending nundreds of unemployed men from Chicago to the harvest fields in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota. And they are good men, experienced and able for the work, many of whom have been there before and know what they are about. Almost every evening we are shipping harvest hands in parties of ten, twenty or more to Minneapolis. The Chicago-St. Paul lines have pooled the harvest hand business and made an open rate of $7 for these men. The commission of the employment agents is $1, making the total cost of transportation to Minneapolis $8. At Minneapolis the harvest hand parties are met by the agents of the big farmers of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota. The men as a rule are employed on the spot and given free fare to the fields. In case transportation is not provided the men are given a half-fare rate to any point they may wish to reach."

According to representations made to men seeking harvest work they may contract for employment by the month and receive assurance of steady jobs lasting ten to welve weeks or three months. The actual and lasts until the latter part of September. After this comes the threshing and storing of the wheat. The threshing is not all done until Jan. 1, and sometimes later. So the promise is held out to men able to do honest work of employment for sixty or ninety lays. There are no temptations for spendng money. Thus at $2.50 a day a man would be able to save $130 to $195, less what he would lay out for tobacco and a few small incidentals. A laboring man must be regarded as very fortunate who can save over $100 in so short a time. While $2.25 to $2.50 is the rate in the midst of harvest, when to save the crop from rotting the grain must speedily be cut and stacked, wages subsequently fall to $1.75 and $2 for

The board which goes with the wages is of the best. It is to the interest of the farmers to feed their men well, the outdoor work being of a character that requires the best of nourishment. Camp cooks are in demand at $3 a day. All the big farms of 5.000 acres or more have their camping outfits, so that the help may be fed and lodged in the fields. These camps are moved from point to point in the vast wheat fields for the convenience of the workers, and they are often several miles distant from the farmhouses, too far for the men to travel back and forth mornings and evenings and at noon hours. 'Ho! for the Dakotas and the harvest fields!" is the slogan on the sidewalk along the west side of Canal street, south of Madson, these days. All the agencies are busy registering applicants and getting up parties

Hundreds of laborers are scattered about reading big red placards and discussing probabilities. That is, some are laborers, some have once been laborers, and some are going to be laborers when they get workpraying meanwhile that they may not find t. The harvest job is the star attraction. It offers the maximum of wages, including an assurance of the best farmhouse grub and plenty of it, and last, but not least, a good chance to save up money against the coming winter. Many of the best hands are men who have been out there in former seasons. They know the lay of the land and go back year after year to make enough noney in the fall to keep them in comfort during the zero weather. Farmers value these able-bodied and experienced hands most highly, and they have the first call. They are more reliable than the migratory chaps who squander their earnings in riotous living, working a little while in the north during the summer and fall, and drifting south to the levees and other public works during the winter. Word came from the Nebraska and western Iowa harvest fields the other day that farmers could not get help enough to harvest their crops. Now the same reports come from the wheat fields of the Dakotas. This shortage of laborers has in many localities made it necessary for the farmers o press women and boys into service cutting, hauling and stacking grain.

This business of hiring harvest hands in Chicago during July and August and shipping them out to the Northwest has grown to be enormous. The railroads have found it important enough to make it a pooling In one agency it was learned that last season between 3,000 and 4,000 hands were shipped by it alone. The business will be equally large this year. Most of the men who seek this work are mechanics temporarily out of work in the city, or strong young farmers from outlying towns in Indiana and Illinois who have left their work at home in such order that they can go out and profit by the big wages offered in the get cars enough to carry the freight that is rowding upon them. The farmers cannot hire men enough to harvest the crops. The manufacturers, the traders, the mechanics, every occupation are making

TRIBUTE TO BESSONIES. Archbishop Ireland Eulogizes the Indianapolis Clergyman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 .- The second day of the twenty-ninth convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America opened with a memorial mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Name, in honor of the members of the order who have died during the year. Father O'Brien, of Ohio, acted as celebrant of the requiem mass, while Father Hodnett, of Chicago, was deacon, Father Shanley, of Hartford, Conn., subdeacon, and Father Ryan, of Chicago, acted as master of ceremonies. Routine business of the convention was taken up when the session was called to order to-day. Philadelphia was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The feature of the session was an address by Archbishop Ireland, in which the distinruished prelate eulogized Mgr. Bessonies, of Catholic temperance work for a generation, and who was present. The archbishop exhorted the delegates to enlist the efforts as well as the subscriptions of their friends in the work of fighting the liquor traffic, and concluded by urging that steps be taken for the preparation of a history of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, so the crusade against the saloon might be renewed at the beginning of the twentieth century.

mittee of five was appointed to prepare for the publication of a history and report at the convention next year. Archbishop Ireland was elected a member of the commit-At the afternoon session the report of All the national officers of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America were re-elected unanimously. They are as follows: President, Bishop Tierney, Hartford, Conn.; first vice president, J. Washington Philadelphia: second vice president. J. Gibbons, Chicago; president, Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, St. secretary, Rev. F. P. Doyle, New York; treasurer, Rev. D. S. McGillicuddy, Worcester, Mass. The business of the convention concluded with the election of officers.

Woman on the Warpath,

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 10.-Mrs. William lontgomery, wife of a farmer residing near Dearborn, endeavored to exterminate several witnesses who had testified against her in a recent suit for slander. Armed with a revolver she searched the home of Mack and appeared to be completely broken down. Van Meter, whom she intended to kill, but She then called Van Meter's sister, Mrs. Hannibal Collier, to the door and fatally shot her. Mrs. Montgomery started toward the home of another witness out was arrested.

Colored Knights Templars.

clave here to-day, with about seventy-five delegates present. Most Eminent Grand delegates present. Most Eminent Grand Commander M. T. Clay, of Lexington, Ky., presided. The day was taken up with the appointing of committees, hearing of recussion of ways and means for the advancement of the order. The conclave will close with the election of officers,

MORMONS NOT MOBBED.

No Serious Harm Done to the Elders in Southern States.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 10 .- President Rich, of the Southern headquarters of the Mormon propaganda in this city, gave out the following statement to-day: "There has been so much sensational matter sent out from here regarding recent mobbings to relatives, and we have received so many telegrams and letters making inquiry of a statement of facts. There is absolutely Lake papers concerning rewards offered for the arrest of mobbers. We have had so far our elders have escaped injury. a rule they are treated nicely, and the trouble we encounter generally comes from among the more ignorant class, headed by religious bigots, who draw their inspiration directly or indirectly from ministers located in Salt Lake City."

Charges Outrages to Politics.

LONDON, Aug. 10 .- At the Mormon headquarters here the Mormon troubles in the southern part of the United States are partly ascribed to their "recent successes, but chiefly to their political opponents, who sition of a Territory." Elder Anderson claims wonderful successes lately in the Southern States. He says: "Over a hundred branches were founded in 1898. The outbreak is distinctly political. They do not attack our doctrines and cannot dispute he good we do. We have established branches in places where hitherto there has een neither church nor chapel. is a widespread anti-Mormon organization. We rarely prosecute disturbers. Justice is justice, and we like to get it; but our inecution wherever possible. Even when the police chief of Lincoln advised prosecution we declined." structions from St. Lake are to avoid pros-

MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR IN HISTORY OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Diplomas Have Been Issued to 1.25 Students, and the Daily Attendance Averaged 2,231.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VALPARAISO, Ind., Aug. 10.-The twenthe Northern Indiana Normal School were held to-might in the college auditorium, where 2,500 people were present to hear the address delivered by Hon. Charles T. Steck, of Shamokin, Pa. With the exercises tonight closed the greatest year of the school. Every State and Territory and many foreign countries have had representatives here the past year among the 3,247 students enrolled. The average daily attendance was

2,231. During the year, including this evening, diplomas have been given to 1,265 students, as fololws: Commercial, 223; teachers, 524; elocution, 30; music, 26; pedagogy. 6; classics, 28; scientific, 130; pharmacy, 80; shorthand, 171; law, 37. The graduates represent thirty-one States, two Territories and Persia, Italy and The Netherlands. Those graduating to-night and receiving degrees and diplomas were: Classic Class-Edward Crain, J. De Grull, Samuel Dyson, J. W. Elliott, P. J. Faust, Mary R. Hanson, W. W. Holliday, Charlie

King, Matilda Maslin, Melnotte Miller, B. Reagan, Walter L. Ross, Clara S. Stott, William H. Shifley. Psychology and Pedagogy-John W. Mc-Kee, Fred Sillery, Henry H. Wilson. Fine Art-Clara Lilliedale, Isabel Simmon. Scientific Class-I. G. Alexander, Smith H. Axtel, William E. Baily, Florence E. Barclay, Samuel V. Barton, Adda Bartow, Anna F. Beard, Alice M. Beckwith, Harriet L. Bell, Fred M. Bell, Lee G. Bunnell, Belle M. Cann, Eugene L. Carney, William Carr, J. Rolla Cash, Albert W. Cloud, D. Birdie F. Crain, William D. Crawford, Ida F. Crego, Lester Crego, John Darst, James E. Davis, Russell Davis, Willis Davis, John E. Davison, Peter H. Donkers, Emma D. Ering, James C. Ertel, James H. Evans, C. E. Farmer, Flora D. Ferrell, Etta M. Findeisen, George R. Fish, S. Fisher, Samuel S. Frederick. cleanor S. Gaffney, Frank M. Gaines, D. W. Gillespie, Gipson P. Gillmer, H. B. Goodin, Flora M. Grady, Otto G. Groth, Charles C. Halvorson, W. E. Hamil, Neilie W. ring, Alice G. Henninger, William H. Hen-L. M. Herrington, Fannie H. Hitchcock, Edward G. Hoffman, Ira M. Hole, Holloway, Ida M. Huebethal, A. Hunter, Martha Jackson, Grace I. Jackson, Amanda V. Johnson, Clarence I. Jones, Carl Marion C. Lasell, James P. Lawyer, J. B. Lemasters, C. R. Lenhart, Kathryn L. Lewis, James P. Lewis, William William A. Lewis, Noble Little, Homer M. Little, Zay Little, Edgar H. Little, James R. Locke, Peter A. Loar, Anna Lyons, David E. McCurtain, R. H. McMil-It is an optimistic situation. "The rail-roads," says an Eastern authority, "cannot S. Marquart, Ivy Miller, Robert P. Millsaps, hn O. Moen, George P. Morse, Elmer J George Niess, John W. Olsen Ordahl, L. N. Pennock, Clara J John W. Olsen Charles J. Luther . Pfleuger, Dallas Flavius J. Ritter. Orville Rendleman. W. Roberts, Ross Carrie Savre, W. F. Schluenz, Walter Scott, William J. Scott, Evelyn Shedd, Samuel P. Shull, Fred Siliery, Grace M. Smith, Ray Smith, Bert H. Smith, Jesse L. Smith, Nellie Snider, J. J. Stanford, Morton Stults, T. Thompson, Edwin L. Thou Van Horne Lorenzo Toothman, W. B. Andrew Warner, David H. Weir, Victor A. Welman, S. I Welty, Helen Whigam, E. V. Wierman, E. mack, E. C. Worstell, Fred E. Younkin. Pharmacy Class-D. Fay Ahearn, Henry L. Ambre, C. M. Ames, Archie William Armstrong, W. S. Beard, J. B. Brown, E. H. Burns, Carl Martin Cahill, Carter, John Thomas Cassady, Charles Winfield Scott Cluxton, Horace bb. Thomas O. Cole, John Darst, Ross Davis, Chester W. De Mott, Walter Royal Lacey Eddington, S. Fisher. Ernest Keitter Foltz, Alvin G. Fritsche Donald W. Garrett, Shaul George, Robert Graham, Adam Nicholas Hafele, iam Earle Hamill, O. C. Hargreaves, H. W. Hathaway, Thomas J. Horsley, Henry Hubert, jr., Eugene Jalbert, George N. Jewett, Edgar Vance Jones, William Y. Jones, Edna Pearl Keehn, Jesse D. Keehn, Gustav Lomen, James McNiven, M. J. Mahoney, lliam Allison Mankey, William Mannes, Philip Miller, James Francis Mur-Robert L. Neale, Otis B. Nesbit, Frank Neupert, William H. Noel, Edwin A. on, R. A. Norton, Edward J. Oberholtz-Arthur D. Ort, George T. Overfield, Parker, George Pfender, Roland Arthur L. Purdy, Rainier, Bertha L. Reck, Charles Frederick Reed. Albert Euing Reynolds, Chas. Rose Thomas Clarence Ryan, George F. chriber, A. R. Sell, Frank Lewis Snyder, J. Tiedeman, Ellsworth Walking Elmer Wiesner, Wendell J. Wilson. Music Class-Inez Francisco, Hugh Roberts, Thomas F. Hughes, Johanna Engebo, Edna Nichols, Nona Bartow, Lizzie B. Sawyer, Maud Nelson, Maud Lane Critten-Josephine Eister, Addie Sturtevant, Janet Watson, Oregon French, Henry Knoess, John Schultz, Emil Walters, Harry Elecution Class-Robert E. Adolph, Mary Barrett, Edna E. Francisco, Winnifred Grady, Clifton J. Hobbs, Mrs. Lillie Leavitt, McCaffrey, Roland H. McMillan,

Kronmann Attended Wife's Funeral. NEW YORK, Aug. 10.-Nathan Kronto the Tombs yesterday on suspician of having killed his wife, Annie Kronmann, last Monday, was permitted to attend the murdered woman's funeral to-day under pol guard. When brought into the room where the body lay Kronmann wept and moaned

Edith V. Norris, Paris H. Renshaw.

Ties Placed on the Track. YOUNGSTOWN, Ia., Oct. 10.-A third atempt was made to wreck a car on the Park and Falls Electric Railway last night obstructions on the track. Manager Park discovered a stranger throwing ties across the track and shot four times at him. The man escaped, but his hat was picked up to-day with a bullet hole through it. Arrests are expected to be made.

MONEY TO BAR WITCHES

STRANGE CHARGE AGAINST AN AL-LEGED GERMAN DOCTOR.

Accused of Taking Pay for Protection Against Evil Spirits-Superstitious

Chicagoans "Bled."

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. - The Tribune says: Joseph Wilhoff, who claims he can stop the grass from growing and says he is on familiar terms with seventy-seven different kinds of elders which has caused much uneasiness of evil spirits, is under $1,000 bonds at the Sheffield-avenue Police Station, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses. He elders, that I deem it necessary to make is accused by Frank Handowsky and wife, 209 Fletcher street, who run a small truck no truth in the statements published in Salt | farm, with telling them that their lettuce and cabbage would not grow if they did not pay him to keep away a blight which he alome trouble in a number of places, but | leged he had power to send upon them. Handowsky says he believed in the power of the "witch doctor" and gave up $40 for "protection." He now wants his money back.

Wilhoff was arrainged before Justice Mahoney yesterday and his case was continued until next Wednesday, to give the police time to secure further evidence against him. The police claim to have the names of many others who have been deluded by Wilhoff.

According to the police, the "doctor," as he is called, has been the cause of a mild wish to see Utah reduced again to the po- reign of terror for the last three months among the Germans living in the vicinity of Sharpshooters' Park. He has been throwing around incantations, spells and hoodoos, the police say, with such prodigality that nobody in the neighborhood has felt safe from his supposed mysterious powers.

The trouble came to a crisis three days ago, it is said, when a "hoodoo" was placed on william Kuhimey and family, 1586 Leavitt street. Kuhlmey had been buying garden stuff from Handowsky, but last week Handowsky refused to sell Kuhlmey any further garden truck, saying that the "doctor" had told him that worms would come in the nightime and destroy all his vegetables if he sold any stuff to Kuhlmey. This was too much for Kuhlmey and he complained Captain Schuettler. Policemen Baumer and Smith were detailed on the case, and the arrest of Wilhoff followed

"I never spoke to this man Wilhoff in my life," said Kuhlmey. "He put a spell on my family because I had a little trouble with who lives next door. Smith has a sick daughter, and Wilhoff has been pretending he could cure her. The first thing I knew none of the neighbors would speak to my wife or children, and it was a mystery to me. Then Handowsky refused to sell my wife any vegetables, and I demanded an explanation. Handowsky told me he had been warned against me and my family, and that Wilhoff had said that anybody would get sick who had anything to do with us." Kuhlmey is employed by the Devoe &

Raynolds Paint Company.
When the police went to Handowsky the gardener told them, they say, that it would be impossible to arrest Wilhoff, as he could strike them dead by a look if they dared to "Wilhoff told me it would do no good to try and arrest him," said Handowsky to the policeman, "as he could tie the judge on the bench so that he could not move and He told me they could fire bullets into his body and he would spit them out.' When Baumer and Smith went into Wilhoff's house there was a crowd of 500 terrifled Germans about the place. Some of them said later that they expected some frightful fate to befall the policemen and to see their bodies ejected in a cloud flames and fire. Baumer, however, gained entrance by pretending he had a sore back and wanted treatment. As soon as he was inside he read the warrant to Wilhoff "I am not afraid of you," said Wilhoff, once and I spit them out."

Rudolph Klein, 145 Oakdale avenue, a machinist employed at the Deering works, told the police that Wilhoff wanted him to go into partnership, with the devil as a third

"Wilhoff asked me if I was afraid of spirits," said Klein, "and I told him I was not afraid of anything under or above the ground. He then told me he would invoke the devil and if I was strong enough to face him that we would get the devil's good will go into the doctor business in the neighborhood. So one night between 12 and 1 o'clock he took me to the church at Jefferson and Milwaukee avenues and made me walk three times by the church, making the sign of the cross as I walked. He had a mirror and in that I was to see the devil as soon as the spell was completed. But first t was necessary that a black cat should look into the mirror. Wilhoff had the black cat with him and held the mirror up before Then I looked into it, but cou nothing but my own face. I don't whether he thought I was the devil, but I declined to go into partnership with myself. I did not give him any money. Miss Kate Zoin, 153 Belmont avenue, will be one of the witnesses against She has a blind mother, and Wilho promised, she says, to restore the sight of Mrs. Zoin inside of a month. He secured $2 from her, Miss Zoin says, and has threatened, if she made any complaint, to make her sick and increase the illness of Wilhoff is apparently twenty-five years trouble by professing to practice the "black The Germans call him a "hixen doctor," and many of them are said firmly to believe in his powers for working evil.

HAUSER HAD A "JAG."

Theater Treasurer's Excuse for Jumping from Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.-Herman Hauser, the treasurer of the Herald-square Theater. who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge last Tuesday, was arraigned in court to-day to answer to the charge of attempted suicide, Hauser explained he was intoxicated when he made the jump and was discharged

The Medical Practice Act.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Attorney General Taylor, in his opinion on the medical practice act as it appears in the public prints on the 5th inst., seems to me quite logical and to the point, except in one particular. He is quoted as saying that "osteopaths and magnetic healers who hold themselves out as physicians and advertise, etc., if unlicensed, are violating law," while on the other hand if they abstain from calling themselves doctors and do not advertise, but administer massage under another name, there is nothing in the law that forbids them givthat requires them to be licensed, thus saying, in effect, they may treat anybody they please and charge what they please. we to understand from this that the whole question of the legality of a man's acts depends upon what he calls himself? a man steals and says he does not call it stealing, is it therefore not stealing? treatment of the sick, why should he be classed in a different class from other men fact that he has trumped up a new name for himself exempt him Does the fact that a man uses but one rem edy in the treatment of the sick, while another uses many, exempt the first while the second is held accountable? Does the fact that a man denies his occupation, while another admits it, exempt the one from the responsibility of his acts and hold the other accountable to the law? A man might say am a pipeopath; I use but one instrument in joining pipes, hence I am not amenable to the law that requires plumbers to take out license. The druggist might hunt up for himself some peculiar name and not ad vertise and demand exemption from the law that requires druggists to take out license. the saloon keeper, and all other classes who operate under license, could in ike manner evade the law. If this kind of thing is to be of the courts it would be well to annou t early and save every one the expense an nconvenience of complying with the law dopting some meaningless name. If a man opens an office and puts nothing but his on the door, and then, thro admits that he treats them with a view to curing their maladies and claims to cur them and charges a fee, treats any and all forms of disease by massage and nothing else and calls it osteopathy, because he does not call himself a doctor is he not violat-

W. WADSWORTH, M. D.